

The William & Mary VETERANS WRITING PROJECT

If you are a veteran of the United States Armed Forces, then you are invited to attend, free of charge, a two day writing workshop at the College of William & Mary.

WHO All veterans of any era, whether a combat veteran or not, are encouraged to attend. Space is limited however, so reserve your spot ASAP.

WHEN Saturday, November 8th and Sunday, November 9th from 9am to 5pm

WHERE The College of William & Mary, Mason School of Business, 101 Ukrop Way, Room 1013

“Giving voice to those who have served”

WHAT The course will be taught by Ron Capps, a combat veteran and professional writer. Participants will receive a course curriculum, instruction from professional writers, and one-on-one guidance. Veterans will be encouraged to continue working on their projects after the seminar and to submit their work for publication in the Veteran Writing Project’s Literary Journal: O-Dark Thirty.

HOW Those interested in participating in the Veterans Writing Project should e-mail Yousif Al-Amin at yalamin@email.wm.edu to reserve a spot.
