Jason Haag & Axel and Ben Shaw

Captain Jason Haag's mission is to be a living representation of an active combat veteran who has overcome the debilitating effects of post traumatic stress disorder (PTSD) and traumatic brain injury (TBI) with the help of a service canine. He will introduce the K9s for Warriors Program.

By sharing his personal journey with military veterans, policymakers, press, and the public, Jason Haag seeks to give a voice to the community of veterans suffering in silence, and to provide a beacon of hope that post 9/11 military veterans can live a life that is whole and free of fear.

Ben Shaw served two tours in Iraq as an infantry Marine, participating in hundreds of combat missions in the "Sunni Triangle," and a third tour as a foreign weapons instructor under Multi-National Forces West - Advanced Infantry Training Center. He is a combat veteran, and has deployed in support of OIFs II-VIII. Currently Regional Director (Northwestern Region), Shaw has worked for the Virginia Wounded Warrior Program since 2010.
